

PROCLAMATION

Global Love Day 2008 invites people from around the world to join in celebrating and spreading love during a one-day planetary event. Encompassing all nations, all people and all life, this fifth annual observance recognizes humanity and the power of love within each individual. Daily we are encouraged to model, embrace global diversity through the actions of love, forgiveness, tolerance, and compassion. Sponsored by the Love Foundation created in 2000, the organization works to inspire people to love unconditionally. This message of love spreads through a wide variety of educational, research and charitable programs.

Whereas: More than 100 countries around the globe sponsor Global Love Day events and the core message has been translated into 20 languages;

Whereas: People from all backgrounds including musicians, artists, government and religious leaders, and businesses around the world are allocating their support;

Whereas: All citizens are invited to observe this day, which honours the cause for Global Love, World Peace, and Universal Joy.

On behalf of City Council and the citizens of Calgary, I hereby proclaim Thursday, May 1, 2008 as:

“GLOBAL LOVE DAY”
